The "Take Our Daughters<sup>1)</sup> & Sons to Work Day<sup>2)</sup>"

This special<sup>16)</sup> day is not only<sup>17)</sup> for children to learn<sup>18)</sup> about their parent's<sup>19)</sup> jobs, but also to<sup>20)</sup> encourage them to think<sup>21)</sup> about their own professional<sup>22)</sup> futures - and how they<sup>23)</sup> can combine a career and<sup>24)</sup> a family.
